1872 300 impressionism Impression impressionist important

Hello, everyone. Welcome to the Marmottan Monet Museum here in Paris. Our museum has ..... works of art by Claude Monet, the famous ..... painter.

Here in front of us is Monet's famous painting, "....., Sunrise." He painted it in .....
This work is very ..... It shows the artist's special way of painting, which is called .....
There are three reasons why impressionism is special.

landscapes traditional outside inside clearly

First, Monet painted ..... almost all of the time. He wanted to show the light and color of nature in his paintings. He painted outside so that he could see this light and color .....
..... artists often painted ....., even when they painted .....

closely detail brushstrokes scene

Next, Monet painted this ..... by moving his paintbrush in a short, quick way.
We call these " ..... ". Do you see the short colorful brushstrokes in this painting? There are no clear lines, and there is not much .....when you look ..... Traditional painters in Monet's time painted with a lot of detail.

alive mixed step back side by side however strange

Finally, most painters ..... their colors, but Monet did not mix colors very often. Each of his colors is ..... with other colors. It looks ..... when you look at the painting closely.
....., when you ....., all of these colors mix together. Suddenly, the painting looks very ..... and real.

Because he chose to paint in a different way, Claude Monet is now one of the most famous painters of all time.

- 5) Shall I...? Mám...? Shall we...? Máme...? It is different from can – mohu, may – smím.
